

FOX TV Show Tests Vedic Astrology From a report by S. Graham

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA -- FOX Family Channel aired last season's opening of "Exploring the Unknown" June 2, at 9 pm PST with a special on astrology and featuring Vedic astrologer Jeffrey Armstrong (Janmadagneya Dasa).

The format of the show hinges on its doubting host, Mitch Pileggi, publisher of National Skeptics Magazine, trying to disprove various metaphysical practices. In this episode he challenged the validity of the ancient science of Vedic astrology.

Strangers called in, gave their birth time and date and received impromptu astrological information from Jeffrey, who scored perfectly, judging by their amazed responses that he had accurately described their lives - and by the stunned host.

Jeffrey's new book, "God the Astrologer; Soul, Karma, and Reincarnation, How we continually create our own destiny" (Torchtlight) was originally titled, "Yes, God Has a Plan for You," as seen on this show.

Jeffrey: "The idea is to obtain accurate scientific Vedic astrological information so we may understand what the Lord wants of us. When we act in accordance with the Lord's desire we can happily live in harmony with Him, with Nature, and with ourselves."

To order "God the Astrologer," call 1-888-867-2458 or email: vasa108@telus.net

For more information on Jeffrey Armstrong and his work, go to www.jeffreyarmstrong.com